

Showcase your skills at the Terry Pendleton Prospect Tracker

The Terry Pendleton Prospect Tracker (TPPT) is designed to assist high school student athletes (Freshmen–Senior) gain the exposure they need to progress and reach the next level of play. The Prospect Tracker provides these athletes with exposure to college coaches and major league scouts through player evaluations, on–line player profiles and skills videos.

TPPT student athletes will be evaluated by college baseball coaches and professional scouts from across the nation. Evaluators at each regional Prospect Tracker event will select their top players based upon a “five tool” evaluation process in combination with head to head play. The top athletes will receive national recognition by being selected to attend Terry’s Super Camp, January 2005 in Florida.
